

Table of contents

Preface	5	4. Drafting arbitration clauses	55
1. What is international arbitration?	7	1. Essential matters to include in an arbitration clause	55
1. The difference between arbitration and other methods of dispute resolution	8	2. Optional matters to include in an arbitration clause	64
2. Why use international arbitration?	15	3. Pathological arbitration agreements	72
3. Types of international arbitration	20	4. Model arbitration clauses	73
4. Diversity in international arbitration	23	5. Expedited arbitration	73
2. The legal framework	25	5. Pre-commencement of arbitral proceedings	83
1. The New York Convention	25	1. Introduction	83
2. National arbitration laws	27	2. When to commence arbitration	83
3. Major institutional arbitration rules	30	3. Gathering evidence	91
4. Internationally accepted rules and guidelines	40	4. Other pre-commencement steps	99
3. The legal effect of agreeing to arbitrate	45	6. Commencing an arbitration	111
1. The arbitration agreement	45	1. Whether to be claimant or respondent	111
2. The legal effect of agreeing to arbitration	48	2. How to start an arbitration proceeding	112
3. Jurisdiction and an arbitrator's powers	49	3. Jurisdictional challenges	119
4. Arbitrability	53	4. Urgent interlocutory relief: emergency measures and emergency arbitrators	124

7. Selecting the tribunal or arbitrator	131	4. Making the application	183
1. Criteria required from arbitrators	131	5. Default and summary procedures	188
2. How to choose an arbitrator	135	11. Developing the case	189
3. Number of arbitrators	137	1. Written submissions	189
4. Methods of selection	138	2. Evidence	200
5. Frustration, delay and default	141	12. The hearing	217
6. Confirmation of appointment and constitution of the tribunal	141	1. Practical arrangements for the hearing	217
8. Dealing with the tribunal	143	2. Procedure at the hearing	221
1. Contacting the tribunal	143	3. Closing oral submissions versus written post-hearing submissions	227
2. Administrative secretaries	145	13. Costs	237
3. Keeping the tribunal informed	145	1. Overview	237
4. Unresponsive tribunals	147	2. Costs of arbitration	238
5. Suspicions of bribery, corruption or money laundering	147	3. Applications for costs	240
9. Establishing procedure	151	14. After the hearing	251
1. Establishing the procedural timetable and conduct of the arbitration	151	1. The award	251
2. ICC Terms of Reference	152	2. Enforcing the award	253
3. Agreeing the procedural timetable	159	3. Challenging enforcement at the place where it is sought	257
4. Amendments to the procedural timetable	172	4. Challenging the award at the seat of arbitration	262
10. Interlocutory applications and provisional measures	179	5. Correcting an award	268
1. Interim, conservatory or provisional measures	179	15. Table comparing key provisions of arbitration rules	271
2. Court or tribunal?	180	About the authors	287
3. Types of application	181	Index	289