

Contents

Executive summary	ix
About the authors	xvii
Chapter 1: Managing risks in the hybrid “office” By William Glynn, legal director, and Niya Phiri, partner, Clyde & Co LLP
Introduction	1
People risks	1
Operational risks	5
Data/IT risks	7
Legal/regulatory risks	9
Conclusion	11
Chapter 2: Climate change and ESG risks for lawyers By Alexia Howard, senior associate, and Simon Konsta, partner, Clyde & Co LLP
Introduction	13
What is ESG?	13
Reputational risks	14
Transition and transactional risks	16
Corporate disclosure and liability risks	17
Greenwashing	20
Diversity and inclusion	21
Conclusion	22
Chapter 3: Data protection By Nigel Miller, founding partner, Fox Williams LLP
Introduction	29
Overview	29
Data protection principles	31

Contents

Lawful ground for processing	34
Accountability	35
Data processors	37
Individual rights	37
Personal data breach	39
International data transfers	39
Marketing and cookies	40
Conclusion	41
Chapter 4: Cybersecurity: an existential risk for law firms
By Simon Chester, counsel, conflicts and regulatory matters, and Sandy Gill, assistant general counsel, Gowling WLG (Canada) LLP
Regulatory requirements	45
Client pressures	46
Cloud computing	47
Remote working	48
Policies and procedures	48
Insider risks	50
Assessing precautions	52
Insurance	54
Planning for breach	55
Next steps	58
Chapter 5: Criminal finances and investigations
By Anousheh Bromfield, senior associate, and Charles Kuhn, partner, Clyde & Co LLP
Introduction and types of financial crime	63
Investigations	63
Privilege	66
Representation	69
Jurisdiction	69
Specific considerations for certain offences in law firms – (section 330 POCA)	70
Conclusion	71
Chapter 6: Anti-money laundering – are you doing enough to protect your firm?
By Brian Rogers, regulatory director, The Access Group
The money laundering landscape	73
Law firm sanctions	73
SRA AML thematic reviews	74

AML guidance.....	75
AML governance.....	76
Firm (practice)-wide risk assessment.....	76
Client/matter level risk assessment.....	77
AML policies, controls, and procedures.....	77
Conclusion.....	80

Chapter 7: Professional indemnity insurance

By Rebecca Atkinson, director of risk and compliance,

Howard Kennedy

The requirement to have professional indemnity insurance.....	81
How much insurance cover to buy.....	82
What a circumstance is, when and how to notify possible claims to insurers, and who will handle the claim.....	83
Should you rectify mistakes? Beware own interest conflict.....	85
PI insurance renewal – what happens each year and top tips for renewal: how to present your firm well.....	86
Possible PI insurance exclusions for sanctioned entities and certain types of work.....	88
A short note about cybercrime insurance.....	88
Limiting liability clauses.....	88
Conclusion.....	89

Chapter 8: Protecting partner assets

By Frank Maher, partner, Legal Risk LLP

Introduction.....	91
Professional indemnity insurance and the exclusions.....	92
Retirement and professional indemnity insurance.....	95
Defensive practice.....	96
Insurance options.....	98
Conclusion.....	98

Chapter 9: SRA compliance

By Rebecca Atkinson, director of risk and compliance,

Howard Kennedy

What is the SRA and when do you need to be authorized by it?.....	101
How to get authorized.....	104
The annual reauthorization process.....	104
The SRA Standards and Regulations.....	106
SRA Enforcement Strategy.....	112
The COLP and COFA role and reporting requirements.....	113

Ethics and how to approach	115
SRA warning notices and guidance	115
Chapter 10: Mitigating risk through your client journeys and practices
By Peter Noyce, head of legal sector, Menzies LLP
Take on process	119
Throughout the transaction	120
Completion	120
Financial disciplines and controls should also be part of the toolkit	121
Conclusion	123
Chapter 11: Outside counsel guidelines
By Noah Fiedler, shareholder and co-leader of the Attorney Risk Management Practice Group, Barron & Newburger, P.C.
Comprehensive outside counsel guidelines become standard	125
Indemnity provisions	126
Defining conflicts of interest	127
Managing the risk of OCGs	129
OCGs are here to stay	130
Chapter 12: Conflicts of interest and confidentiality duties – effective risk management
By Tracey Calvert, founder and director, Oakalls Consultancy Limited
Own interest conflict	133
Conflicts of interests when acting for clients	134
Confidentiality and disclosure	135
Risk management	136
Risk compliance objectives	137
Risk management pinch points	138
Compliance solutions	140
The bigger picture	141
Chapter 13: Complaints
By Rebecca Atkinson, director of risk and compliance, Howard Kennedy
The requirements regarding complaints	143
What should the complaints handling process be and who should undertake complaint handling in the firm?	144
How to effectively handle complaints	146
Complaints made by non-clients	149

How to handle online reviews – good or bad	149
The Legal Ombudsman Scheme Rules, publication, and case fee	150
Further guidance	152
Chapter 14: Effective supervision in remote and hybrid teams
By Jamie Butler, executive coach and facilitator and founder, Jamie Butler Coaching Limited
Why is good supervision important?	155
Risks, challenges, and opportunities of remote supervision	156
Core skills and characteristics of an effective remote supervisor	156
Setting “ground rules” to establish responsibility and build trust	157
Communicating for effectiveness and productivity	158
Maximizing engagement, inclusion, and wellbeing	158
Hybrid working – developing approaches	160
Hybrid working and supervision – opportunities and challenges	161
“Supervisor as coach” skills – managing from a distance	162
Chapter 15: Lateral hiring in law firms – risks and reward
By Ruth Bonino, professional support lawyer, and Chris Holme, partner, Clyde & Co LLP
Introduction	165
Basic legal, ethical, and regulatory obligations of partners in UK law firms	165
Setting the scene	167
The due diligence process – how to avoid overstepping the mark	168
Pre-employment vetting	169
Conflict checks – how to avoid breaching confidentiality obligations	170
Integration issues	170
Key rules of the road	172
Chapter 16: Culture matters – a new era for law firm risk management
By Jessica Clay, partner, Iain Miller, partner, and Lucinda Soon, professional support lawyer, Kingsley Napley
Ethical culture under the spotlight	174
Assessments of unfair treatment	177
Concurrent employment claims	178
Challenging behavior that does not meet the standard	179
Personal and professional boundaries	180
Conclusion	181

Contents

Chapter 17: Innovation and the opportunities in flexible regulation

By Jonathon Bray, director, Jonathon Bray Limited

Regulation-led innovation	185
CMA report	186
Deregulation-led innovation	187
Other external factors	189
Ten years of ABSs – evolution rather than revolution?	190
Innovation is easier said than done	192
About Globe Law and Business	195